

Paris gets twice as many

Only three times in 14 years has a convention centre been nominated for the National Supplier Award from the International Association of Professional Congress Organisers, IAPCO. It has now just been won by the Palais des Congrès de Paris. The company must be nominated by a PCO for a specific event that took place in the year in question

The Palais was nominated by the Italian PCO, AISC & MGR (AIM Group) who held the 14th European Meeting on Hypertension at the venue in June 2004.
